Talk about how much time each of you can realistically contribute. Exchange contact details and arrange another time to meet up.

Who are you talking to?
Start with a quick round of introductions – who is in the room?

Why are you getting involved?
Why are you fighting for? What are you fighting for?

What do you enjoy doing?
Art and activism doesn’t have to be exhausting. Find something you like doing anyway and think about how you could give it a little twist.

What are you fighting for?
Make a list of five values, ideas or methods you are promoting.

What are you hoping for?
Try to find some words for your anger, fears, hopes and expectations.

What could be happening?
If money wasn’t an issue - what would you like to do?

What could be happening?
Given the limited time and resources available - what could you do now?

What is already happening?
Make a list of organisations, people and institutions in your area who you could get in contact with.
